

Provincial Growth Plan Policy Context

- Building transit supportive communities with a greater mix of uses
- Directing new population and employment growth to intensification areas
- Ensuring an adequate supply of employment land to accommodate forecasted growth
- Reducing the dependence on auto use and emphasizing transportation alternatives such as transit, walking and cycling
- Recognizing urban growth centres, intensification corridors and major transit stations as the focus for accommodating intensification

